Captains Courageous Sailing Adventures

Captains Courageous offers dynamic, transformational sailing adventures tailored to the needs of your organization. Beyond games, beyond theories, beyond tools and techniques, Captains Courageous takes teamwork and leadership development to new levels of effectiveness and lasting results.

Rather than a simple amateur regatta that you'll get from most companies, we take the time to understand the specific challenges and opportunities faced by your teams and leaders, and we custom-design the adventure to bring forward transferable skills, insights and experiences that will positively transform your workplace.

We offer 1.5- to 5-day formats for team development, and 5-day adventures for leaders. Our home waters are the gorgeous Biscayne Bay of Miami and the Florida Keys; but we can provide our services wherever water and boats are to be found.

Our staff has many years of personal growth and corporate development training experience as well as superior credentials for handling sailboats of all sizes in all conditions. For participants, no prior sailing experience is required.

for Teams

Captains Courageous Team Adventure teaches your team to master the seas of collaboration and achievement as you strategize, navigate, steer and communicate your way to success.

Beyond games, theories, tools and techniques, this is a powerful team development experience designed to dramatically improve your team's business performance.

We start with your goals in mind through a team diagnostic process that may include assessments, surveys or interviews. From there, we will custom-design your program to address your specific needs and goals, to take your team where it wants and needs to go.

A startup session on land helps clarify team direction and individual roles and goals. At sea, we set up a series of increasingly complex challenges to highlight and enhance team members' ability to work together effectively and confidently toward both organizational goals and individual commitment and satisfaction.

Your team will return to land energized, inspired, and aligned with specific next steps to implement and integrate their experience at work.

for Leaders

Do you really need more leadership models, lock-steps to success, or categorizing quadrants? By now you probably have more tools and techniques than you can remember, let alone use.

Captains Courageous Leadership Adventure will help you integrate and enhance what you've already learned, at a deeper and more personal level.

As you captain, navigate and crew our sailboat, you will be called to a high level of honesty, self-awareness and courage.

Your performance as a leader will be tested and proven through sailing's inherent challenges: strategic problem-solving, decision-making, teamwork and communication. The liveboard environment will magnify your intentions and their consequences, your clarity, and your default patterns of thought and behavior. Skilled and caring coaching will assist you to discern and develop new and more effective approaches in terms of outcomes, processes, and the involvement of others.

You will return to land with an individualized implementation plan so that the adventure need never end.
